IMPORTANT POINTS

Observation sites:

Seek the opinion of the CRAAG regarding the suitability of the observation sites proposed for the three itineraries and, if necessary, request recommendations for alternative sites that offer the best conditions for viewing the eclipse. (Awaiting response)

Official timings:

Request confirmation of the official timings for the solar eclipse of August 2, 2027, for each relevant site—specifically the start, maximum, and end of the eclipse, as well as the timing of the totality phase, where applicable.

Viewing glasses:

Participants must be equipped with solar viewing glasses that comply with the ISO 12312-2 standard; these are essential for observing the eclipse safely during the partial phases.

Weather conditions:

Eclipse observation is dependent on weather conditions, which are beyond the control of ONAT and may affect the visibility of the phenomenon.
